

Indiana has a very good telemarketing law and it works. Before I signed up to have my name on the no call list I would get 10 to 15 calls per week, now I get 1 or 2 per month. We in Indiana do not need the FCC to pass a lesser law. Maybe you should spend your time on other federal items, and let the states take of their problems. You are too late to fix this problem.

Don Sloan